

Ozone Action Day Notification Process

- An Ozone Action Day will be announced if the following day is predicted to be a Code Orange or Code Red (refer to the “Ground-level Ozone Forecast and Action Guide” for explanation of codes).
- During the ozone season, two meteorologists with the Division of Air Quality will decide daily (by 3:00 p.m.) whether the next day will be an Ozone Action Day.
- Local media including: television, radio, and newspaper, and local business and industry will be notified by fax.
